THE WAREHOUSE SOLUTIONS GROUP LAUNCHES NEW GLOBAL WEBSITE

New Website Serves as Global Resource for Information on the Warehousing, Distribution and Manufacturing Industries

Long Island, New York (April 16, 2008) - The Warehouse Solutions Group, the Long Island based organization of warehousing and distribution experts committed to providing the latest technology and solutions to the warehousing, distribution and manufacturing industries, has launched a new global website.

The group's goal, through the newly launched website, is to provide an information portal on the latest news, technology and trends affecting the industry. The website will offer up-to-date, real time information on a variety of issues that concern the global supply chain market.

"We believe this website will serve as an industry resource on the latest trends affecting our industry," says Anthony Nuzio, President of ICC Logistics Services and member of the organization. "The warehousing, distribution and manufacturing industries are consistently changing, and in order to be successful in this competitive marketplace, companies need to be aware of the latest technologies and trends affecting its business."

The site, which launched on April 16, 2008, will feature a news section, allowing visitors a listing of the latest news affecting the industry. The site will also feature an events section, which will include warehousing, distribution and manufacturing-focused events taking place both locally as well as globally. In addition, the site will feature a member's page, with links to industry resources and services.
